ATLANTIC CITY, N.J., June 26, 2020 /PRNewswire/ -- In anticipation of New Jersey Governor Phil Murphy's order authorizing the reopening of Atlantic City casinos, Bally's, Caesars, and Harrah's Resort will re-open on Friday, July 3rd, just in time for the Fourth of July holiday.*

"We are thrilled to welcome back both our team members and customers to Bally's, Caesars, and Harrah's Resort and look forward to creating more memories together," said Ron Baumann, Regional President for Caesars Entertainment (NASDAQ: CZR), Atlantic City region. "The well-being of our team members and guests is important to us, and we are focused on enhancing our health and safety protocols to provide an enjoyable guest experience that emphasizes social distancing and cleanliness. Whether you plan to visit us on the world-famous Atlantic City Boardwalk, or enjoy the sophisticated setting of the Marina District, our resorts offer a great travel escape for guests this summer -- especially for those living within drive-time of the Jersey Shore, who can visit us on a tank of gas, without the flight."

Caesars Rewards customers will be welcomed back to three of the East Coast's pre-eminent gaming destinations with promotions like 5X Tier Credits & 5X Comps, as well as an enhanced loyalty card program that makes it easier to enjoy the benefits of being a Caesars Rewards customer.

Caesars Entertainment's Atlantic City properties will re-open in accordance with the directives from New Jersey Governor Phil Murphy. Bally's, Caesars, and Harrah's Resort's health and safety plans were developed in accordance with guidance from both local and state health officials, as well as the Center for Disease Control (CDC). On its gaming floors, Caesars, Bally's, and Harrah's Resort have rearranged slot machine banks to allow for social distancing, and fewer seats will allow for better spacing at table games. Additionally, all hospitality offerings & restaurants will reopen at reduced capacity in adherence with social distancing practices.
