"Chef Bobby Flay and Mesa Grill have been trailblazers in the now burgeoning Las Vegas culinary scene," said Caesars Palace President Gary Selesner. "We couldn't be more thrilled for Mesa Grill to continue to delight Caesars Palace guests with its explosive flavors, unique combinations and warm atmosphere."

Opening to great success in 2004, Mesa Grill has since been a culinary destination inside the iconic Las Vegas casino. Having been at the forefront of the Strip's culinary evolution, Flay has been integral in bringing bold, new flavors and fresh ingredients to one of the world's top tourist destinations.

Flay has also been a leading philanthropic restaurateur, with no better example than the outpouring of support Mesa Grill shows during Three Square Food Bank's annual Restaurant Week, a city-wide event used to raise funds to end hunger in Southern Nevada. Year after year, Mesa Grill has been awarded with the top Gold Plate honor for raising the most funds during the event.

Flay has developed his signature style of American cookery, marrying the flavors of southwest with his love of grilling at Mesa Grill. Mesa Grill's menu features dishes like New Mexican Spice Rubbed Pork Tenderloin with Bourbon-Ancho Chile Sauce, Sweet Potato Tamale and Crushed Pecan Butter. In a nod to the West, he also includes a Chiptole Glazed Rib-Eye with Red and Green Chile Sauce.

Las Vegas' proximity to Mexico gives the restaurant access to some of that country's highest-quality tequila and mezcal offerings, and the expansive wine list has a global reach yet maintains an emphasis on top American wines.

The combination of the restaurant's magnificent decor, the exciting vibe of the casino atmosphere and the stunning range of textures, flavors and colors incorporated into the menu, Mesa Grill continue to electrify diners year after year.
